

The ELSA Moot Court Competition on WTO Law

The Rules

Preface

The World Trade Organization is the international inter-governmental organization dealing with the rules of trade between nations. At its heart are the WTO Agreements, negotiated and signed by the majority of the world's trading nations and ratified by their parliaments. Thus the WTO Agreements cover nearly 97 % of all global trade. The goal of the WTO is to develop trade rules in order to help Members' producers of goods and services, exporters, and importers conduct their business in a facilitated way.

The European Law Students' Association is the world's largest independent, non-profit, non-political association run by and for law students and young lawyers. The ELSA Vision is: "A just world in which there is respect for human dignity and cultural diversity." Contributing to legal education and promoting Human Rights awareness are among the central aims of the association. Through various academically focused projects and events, ELSA provides opportunities for law students and young lawyers to apply theory in practice and to learn about other legal systems.

The ELSA Moot Court Competition (EMC²) on the Law of the World Trade Organization (WTO) is the annually held international moot court competition owned by the European Law Students' Association (ELSA).

In view of these goals, ELSA International sees the need to support and enhance the development of trade between nations with the development of the ELSA Moot Court Competition on WTO law into a worldwide competition. ELSA's acknowledges its role in on-going action to contribute to Clinical Legal Education globally. The competition seeks to educate law students from all over the world to develop their legal- and oral presentation skills and to educate the lawyers of the future in the area of world trade law. The competition attempts for greater involvement of WTO experts from legal academia, the WTO Secretariat and international trade law practitioners.

In that regard, ELSA International has set out the following EMC² Rules:

B. The Competition

1. Team Composition

- 1.1 In order to take part in the competition, a team must be from a university or law faculty located in a Member State of ELSA or a Member State of or country in accession to the WTO. If the university has a campus in another country, this is allowed to enter as well.
- 1.2 There shall only be one (1) team per university since the team will be representing it. If different independent universities are located in the same city, each may send a separate team. However, all team members must be from the same university. If more than one team per university will register, the university shall select the participating team.
- 1.3 Only students from a university or law faculty awarding a law degree, not a doctoral program, are allowed to participate.
- 1.4 Each Team is allowed to register only two (2) coaches.
- 1.5 The team shall consist of 2-4 law students and they must be enrolled in the same university or law faculty. Students being on exchange in another country are eligible to participate under the foreign university. The teams shall submit their team composition via the registration form.
- 1.6 Although the students must do all the research of the written memoranda themselves – without assistance from anyone who is not a student member of the team-faculty, advisors, and coaches may help identify the issues, comments on the persuasiveness of the arguments the students have made in drafts and, when necessary, suggest other arguments the students might consider employing, as well as assist in linguistics matters. However, the final product must be the students' – not the coaches'. Teams not obeying this rule will be disqualified.

1.7 Registered Team Members from one Team are permitted to engage in practice moots amongst themselves and within their own institutions. Any assistance given in this phase will also be limited to a general discussion of the issues, linguistic help and training in presentation skills.

- (2) The student has previously participated in the EMC² competition, unless the team was kept from participating because of external complications, such as force majeure or visa issues;

Practice of law entails activities such as pleadings before domestic or international courts, arbitral tribunals or other dispute resolution institutions, including those with a mediation or conciliation function. - (6) Student employment during holiday periods that is typically undertaken by law students (such as internships of up to 3 months of duration in law firms and other legal institutions) shall normally not be regarded as having been or engaging in the practice of law. However, teams should consult the ELSA International representative in case of any doubts, in particular in cases of professional activities outside of holiday periods, so as to avoid subsequent disqualification.

1.9 A student who is engaged in any activity is not subject to such Rules if the activity occurs after the Commencement of Rounds date listed in the timeline.
